

Casement Windows

THE double-glazed casement window's enduring popularity in homes throughout the country is due to its versatility and performance. It can be top hung or side opening, depending on customer demands, manufactured with multipoint locking systems and fully reinforced sections exceeding contemporary safety and security demands. McLeod Windows offers a full range of casement windows and enjoys an impressive track record in creating stylish, reliable and customised products. What is a Casement Window? A CASEMENT window has a hinged sash that swings inwards like a door - side-hung, top-hung, occasionally bottom-hung or in a combination of styles – and is also available with fixed panels on one or more sides of the sash.