

Composite Doors

THE composite door is a new addition to our range and it's a product we are delighted to bring on board. These give the customer even more choice when contemplating a new door. Our composite doors come in a range of finishes, with the standard range extended to include blue, green, red and now black. As with the panel door, attention has been paid to security. All our composite doors enjoy Secured by Design accreditation and have passed stringent anti-intruder tests.
